THE

Union Lubricator

MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

The thoroughly tested Lubricator, for Steam and Street Cars, Paper, Rolling, Cotton and Woolen Mills, Sugar Refineries, Gas Works, Brick Yards, Dredging Machines, and for all Machinery with heavy bearings. Also for Carriages, Wagons, Carts, Drays, etc.

This Lubricator combines economy, durability, and perfect lubrication without friction, gumming or running. The absence of all friction renders it an indispensable auxiliary for cooling journals and boxes on Steam Cars. The coldest weather has no effect on this Lubricator.

It has been conceded by those that have thoroughly tested this article, that it is superior to any lubricator offered to the public, and that it is a saving of 30 to 50 per cent.

The Company manufactures three different grades, designed severally for Steam and Horse Cars, Machinery, Trucks, Drays, Carriages, &c., all of which is secured by Letters Patent, granted 1876.

All goods guaranteed as represented and put up in convenient packages for the trade.

Orders addressed to the Union Lubricator Co., No. 6 Haymarket Square, Boston, or W. W. Whipple & Co., Agent, 21 Market Square, Portland, will be promptly attended to.

We are permitted to refer to the following:

PORTLAND, June 15, 1877.

To the Union Lubricator Co., 6 Haymarket Square, Boston:

We have thoroughly tested your Lubricator on our road and find it to be of great merit, running 6 weeks and over 3000 miles without replenishing, thereby saving in time and expense. We can safely recommend its use on all railways.

Republican State Convention.

The Republicans of Maine and all others who propose to support the candidate of the Republican party in the pending election, are invited to send delegates to a State Convention, to be held in

GRANITE HALL, Augusta,

Thursday, August 9th, 1877, at 11 A. M.,

for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, to be supported at the September election and to attend to such other business as may properly come befor the convention.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Each city, town and plantation is entitled to one delegate and one additional delegate for every seventy-five votes given for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1876. A fraction of forty votes over the number which is entitled to one delegate, will be accorded a delegate. Substitutes can serve only for towns of the county in which they reside.

The Republican State Committee will be in session in the ante-room of the Hall at 10 o'clock the morning of the Convention.

By order of the Republican State Committee.

JAMES G. BLAINE, Chairman.

J. O. SMITH, Secretary.

Cumberland Co. Republican Convention.

The Republicans of Cumberland County and all others who intend to act with the Party in the September election are invited to send delegates to a convention to be held in

Reception Hall, City Building,

PORTLAND, Thursday, August 16, 1877,

At 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating four candidates for the office of State Senator, one County Commissioner, Register of Deeds, Treasurer. Also to choose a County Committee for the year 1878, also to act upon any other business proper to come before the convention.

The basis of representation will be as follows: Portland and each of the several Towns in the County will be entitled to one delegate and one for every 75 votes cast for Selden Connor for Governor last year. A fraction of 40 or more will be entitled to an additional delegate.

This basis will give the following number of delegates and apportionment:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Baldwin | 3 | Naples | 2 |
| Bridgton | 7 | New Gloucester | 4 |
| Brunswick | 8 | North Yarmouth | 3 |

The Eastern Situation.

The gravity of the Russian defeat at Plevna has undoubtedly been magnified. It is hard to believe that the repulse of an assaulting column of 35,000 men with a loss of perhaps 8000 men seriously imperils an army of 400,000 and is destined to result in anything more than a temporary check. The ease with which the Russians crossed the Danube, their rapid advance toward the Balkans, and the easy capture of Shipka pass had about convinced the world that they were to encounter no serious resistance to their victorious advance beyond the Balkans. The defeat at Plevna came like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, a fact that greatly heightened its effect and clothed it with much greater significance than it deserved. Correspondents have also accomplished a good deal in the same direction. The Czar is described as almost broken-hearted over the disaster and wishing himself at home in St. Petersburg. One newspaper man seems to have been present at a dispute between him and the Grand Duke Nicholas as to where the responsibility of the defeat belonged. The Grand Duke told the Czar it was the result of running the campaign on a political instead of a military basis, and intimated that if he would go back to Moscow and leave the army to him all would be well. And the correspondent adds that the Czar concluded to go. Doubtless both of these tales are the result of a lively fancy. The resources of the correspondent engaged in writing up the Danubian campaign lie mostly within him. He is allowed few facilities either by the Russians or the Turks for observing the movements of the combatants and still less for communicating them to the outside world. Therefore he finds it more profitable to station himself without the lines where he can have the liberty to write what he chooses. Consequently his facts are often erroneous, and his predictions, even when based on accurate knowledge, are likely to be influenced very much by his hopes or fears and therefore not very valuable.

That the Russians have met with a reverse there is no doubt, but that it will seriously disarrange their plan of campaign as is frequently predicted, is not probable. They hold all the positions they held before their repulse and the strength of their army is not seriously impared. Their is no reason, for a weakening of confidence in their ultimate triumph. They still have greater armies, better organization and more lasting resources than the Turks.

THE spirit of rioting is not just now monopolized in America, for we hear of a serious outbreak in Belfast where the Home Rule question, which is only fought with the tongue by the Irish members in Parliament, was fought with murderous weapons. The Nationalists Monday held a demonstration in Belfast to celebrate the birth of O'Connell, and disturbances occurred. Houses were wrecked, a number of persons wounded, and the streets had to be patrolled by the troops during the night. The cable despatches do not define the cause of the trouble, but it occurred very likely from quarrels of the Nationalists with the Home Rulers, who are charged with cowardice by their more hot-blooded opponents.

MR. TRABUE, Independent candidate for State treasurer of Kentucky, has solved the whole financial problem in a novel and ingenious manner. Attrition is the basis of his system. He advocates the abolition of all federal taxes, and the issue instead, of enough greenbacks for government purposes, these greenbacks to be allowed to wear out. If they are made of poor paper and kept moving attrition will destroy enough of them each year to allow a new issue large enough to pay government expenses.

SENATOR LAMAR has apparently seen the error of his ways and is a hopeful convert to the doctrine of the supremacy of the nation over the state. He told the Mississippi Convention the other day that if the time should ever come when the South should be compelled to choose between her own local interests and the welfare of the nation at large, he believed she would sustain her public men in subordinating the former to the latter.

THE certainty of a large Republican majority in the next French Assembly seems to have opened the eyes of the government to the gravity of the crisis which would result from a reactionary Cabinet being confronted by an Assembly largely Republican, and M. Dufaure is to attempt to avert it by forming a ministry of conciliation made up from the Left Centre and the Moderate Right. Finding its bull-dozing measures to carry the elections likely to be of little avail the government is now very ready to compromise.

SAMUEL FOOT, LL. D., of Geneva, N. Y., formerly a member of the New York court of appeals, has written an open letter to the publishers of the North American Review severely criticising their course in opening its pages to Judge Black for such villification and abuse of distinguished and upright citizens as are contained in his article entitled "The Electoral Conspiracy." Mr. Foot thinks that the publication of such articles is entirely inconsistent with the high national character which the Review has heretofore maintained.

ENGLAND seems to breathe some easier since the Russian defeat at Plevna, and the speeches of Lords Salisbury and Sandon at the Conservative demonstration at Hatfield were in marked contrast to the bellicose tone of a large portion of the British press after the Russians had crossed the Danube and when it was thought they would encounter little opposition in their march toward Constantinople.

PITTSBURG came near furnishing a telegraphic Casabianca, only the boy had too much sense. He was the operator in the Pittsburg railroad office, and on the night of the riot was shut up therein. He kept telegraphing, doing his duty without the slightest regard to the mob surrounding him, till at last they fired the building, when with a touch of humor he sent his last message, "Fire's too hot; good night," and got away in time.

TUESDAY's election in Alabama shows a Democratic gain of 4300 in one county over the vote at the Presidential election. Then the Republicans carried the county by 4000 majority, now the Democratic majority is 300. The disintegration of the Democratic party at the South which was confidently predicted a few months ago has not yet begun.

THE working men of Louisville, Ky., did a good day's work Monday. They defeated five Democrats at the polls.

Men and Women.

James Gordon Bennet, says a New York correspondent, is the only journalist who ever took to marine sports. Our "editors, indeed, seldom had any sport whatever; they were a laboring class whose chief enjoyment was in their work. This is the case with the present editorial force in this city. Whitelaw Reid takes hardly any recreation. He is a bachelor, and so is Hurlburt, of the World, who has little amusement outside the Manhattan Club, where he can spend an occasional evening."

Mr. H. Sidney Everett, just appointed Chief Secretary of Legation at Berlin, is the oldest surviving son of the late Edward Everett. He was born in 1834, was graduated from Harvard College in 1855, studied engineering at the Lawrence Scientific School, was engaged on the staff of the Brooklyn Water Works, and served for a time on Gen. Saxton's staff at Hilton Head. Finding the climate of Boston too severe for him he has lived most of the time since 1867 in Europe.

"Bogus Charley," of the Modoc tribe, whose members now occupy a reservation in the Indian Territory, has been converted to Christianity.

A very curious example of Disraelian humor, says the Liverpool Mercury, is that connected with his crest and motto. When he began life a candidate for Parliament he had a crest ready for use, and a motto prepared to go with it. The former was a castle, and we know by his novels how profoundly he is moved by a "baronial dwelling place." The motto was "Forti nihil defficile," translated during his candidature in Shrewsbury, forty-six years ago, by his friends, "Nothing is difficult to the brave", and by his enemies, "Impudence sticks at nothing." For more than forty-five years did that motto and that crest lie dormant. It was understood that Mr. Disraeli held his family to have been superior to crests. But a peer must have his coat of arms, and the castle and the "Forti nihil difficile" have turned up again as the ornament appended to the earl's title in the engraved peerages. Very appropriate is the motto. Indeed, the whole story seems part of a veritable romance. This son of a country bookworm begins life by saying that he counts nothing difficult. He drops his boasting till all is attained, and then he again proclaims that he has not found the fight a hard one.

Hugo is credited with a new trait of amiability towards children. He invited a friend to bring his young son to dinner, and the friend so thoroughly impressed his young son with a sense of the honor conferred on him that he sat silent and uneasy all through the social meal. "My friend," finally said Hugo, "your boy doesn't seem well?" "Not seem well? Why? What's wrong?" "Oh, he's broken nothing yet—he doesn't feel at home."

The statement that Mr. Jefferson Davis in his forthcoming work on the late war, won'd "severely criticize General Johnstone, charging upon him the full responsibility of the failure to pursue the Federal forces into Washington after the disastrous defeat at Ball Run," is, according to the Mobile Register, "to be contradicted upon the best of authority." The Register adds that the originator of the paragraph "had evidently no authority to speak for Mr. Davis, and no knowledge of his opinions or purposes."

Hon. Charles Francis Adams will preside at the reunion of the Free Soilers of 1848, which is to be held at Downer Landing on Thursday.

There is a rumor that Miss Lillian Conway, the actress, will be married in the autumn to Mr. Charles Cablos, a broker of Philadelphia.

Ida Lewis, the Newport heroine, is in poor health this summer, and sees but few visitors. She says that she is growing old. The hardships that she has undergone are beginning to tell upon her constitution, but she maintains her cheerfulness.

Robert Dale Owen was a Spiritualist to the last. In reply to a clergyman who asked him if he had unwavering faith in the life to come, Mr. Owen said: "Have you faith in the existence of this church over the way?" to which the clergyman responded, "I should hardly call that faith. I see and know that it exists." "And for my part," replied Mr. Owen, "it seems a folly to call that faith which is, to me, knowledge, knowledge acquired through facts convincing alike to the senses and the reason. I can no more question the evidence I have received of the future life than I do that which assures me of the actual existence of the building before our eyes.

Olive Logan, in speaking of General Grant's reception at London places of amusement, says: The first sight the audience get of our General they rise to their feet and greet him with such hearty acclamations as to cause the hearts of all Americans present to throb with excitement and pleasure. Then the curtain rises, and Albani sings the solo parts of The Star Spangled Banner so warmly, so thrillingly, that every eye is wet. The audience remain standing till the conclusion of the anthem, precisely as they do for "God Save the Queen."

News and Other Items.

It turns out that the "B. L. U. E." posters signed "Blood," which so terrified the Boston authorities during the recent riots, and occupied the police for many hours in the night, pulling them down as incendiary, were only an advertising dodge by the publisher of a new book called "Blue Blood."

Probably the youngest railroad directors in the United States are James Blair Preston, aged 12, and W. H. Blair, 10 years, who are directors of the Paulinskill Valley Railroad. They are grandsons of Mr. John I. Blair, who owns the road.

Field Marshal General John Steinmetz, one of the most distinguished soldiers of the German empire, died on Friday night of heart disease at the baths of Landeck, in Silesia. He won his field marshalship in the last campaign, having command of the first army corps.

The agent of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad in Boston has received a despatch from the general passenger agent, stating that "at no time during the strike was any of our trains stopped or delayed. Every passenger train was run as before and since, and not a Northwestern man, from the lowest track laborer to the highest officer, struck or took part in the strike. The Associated Press reporter at Chicago is H. W. Smith, brother of Charles W. Smith, general freight agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad (a rival line), and that accounts for your reports to a contrary effect."

Miss E. T. Burke, a wealthy lady of Cleveland, Ohio, was missed from her room at Oakland Beach Hotel, Providence, at half-past ten yesterday morning. At 7 her lifeless body was found in the water near by. She probably jumped from a second story window of the hotel and drowned herself. She was an invalid.

News comes from San Antonio that Capt. Nolan, who was lost on the Staked Plains, has reached Darble Lake with a loss of two men 25 horses. The party was 86 hours without water.

Regulars Better than Militia Against a Mob.

The New York Nation makes the following observation upon the relative order of regulars and militia in a conflict with rioters:

Another illusion which riots have dispelled is that the means provided by the several states for the protection of life and property in the shape of police and militia, are at all adequate. Riots on the scale on which they have taken place during the past fortnight put almost as much strain on the nerves and on the discipline of the force called on to suppress them as the operations of regular warfare. A lawful enemy forms an organization which keeps itself in a defined position, and its attacks are controlled by rules with which men are more or less familiar and dictated by motives which can be guessed, and the force of which can be weighed. A mob, on the other hand, is essentially irrational, and its conduct has all the fitfulness and incomprehensibility of that of a wild beast, and is just as merciless and destructive. It requires, therefore, to be met by a coolness and cohesiveness, and a presence of mind, which are not often called for in actual campaigning. Nothing can supply these things but the habit of obedience—not simply intellectual readiness to obey, as part of a contract, but the habitual readiness to obey a particular man, produced by obeying him every day on all sorts of small matters, and the familiarity with his person and character which results from living under his orders. This regular troops have; this even the best militia has not and cannot have. The consequence is that a militia regiment, no matter how well drilled, when it finds itself acting against a mob, and the temper of the men begins to be tried by missiles and insults, loses very rapidly its sense of organization. The company and the regiment and the officers fade from the private's view, and he becomes in his own eyes an individual man, at whom a fellow on the sidewalk is throwing brickbats; so he gratifies his rage and provides for his personal safety by taking a shot at him. The mob, on its side, takes more or less the same view of the force; that is, it believes it has got before it a body very much like itself, although armed and uniformed, and does not believe in its discipline and cohesiveness, and does believe it can dissolve it by vigorous pelting or a series of single combats, or by appeals to the sympathies of the men. Regulars, on the other hand, it knows to be a machine—the most terrible of all the machines invented by man, by which the wills of a thousand are wielded, even unto death, by the will of one, and which knows nothing of single shots, which feels every blow through its whole mass, and when it strikes strikes like the flail of destiny, without remorse or pity or misgiving. The consequence is that many of the horrors and aggravations of mob-risings come from the unsteadiness of militia. Killing by militia is apt to rouse a thirst for vengeance, like the killing in a street fight, while a volley from regulars has the terrors of legal execution. Of course there are militia regiments which are exceptions to this rule, and several during the late troubles have rendered inestimable service; but they are not to be relied on for serious emergencies such as we trust every sensible man now sees are among the contingencies of American life.

The Maine Bear Crop.

[From the New York Times.]

Last year the state of Maine paid $2725 for bears. As $5 was paid for each bear, almost any one who has a moderate command of slate can ascertain that 549 bears were paid for. Whether the state required any more bears, or whether the supply fell short, we are not informed, but it is probable that if enough additional

Republican State Convention.

Much Interest Manifested in the Action to be Taken To-day.

Gov. Connor to be Renominated by Acclamation.

AUGUSTA, Aug. 8.—The Republican State Convention, which takes place here to-morrow, judging from the newspaper representatives present, excites more than a local interest. But few delegates have arrived up to this evening, and the indications are that the convention will not be large. The leading men who will shape the course of proceedings are here and there is no doubt that a majority of them are opposed to passing a resolution endorsing the national administration. The question is quite freely discussed and for the sake of harmony those opposed to the policy would probably compromise by having no resolution on national affairs. Whether this will be accepted by the administration men cannot now be stated, but the indications are that it will not.

Ex-Gov. Chamberlain is here as a delegate, and it is understood will be satisfied with nothing short of a square endorsement of the President, and he will have a strong following.

The State Committee had a meeting this evening, which was fully attended. The only business of importance was the selection of officers for the preliminary organization of the convention, as follows: For temporary chairman, Hon. Josiah H. Drummond of Portland; for secretaries, David H. Knowlton of Farmington, and Edwin Sprague of Rockland.

A special train from Portland will arrive in the morning and the towns on the route and in the central portion of the state will be represented, but the indications are that the remote counties will have a light representation. Gov. Connor will be renominated by acclamation. Among the leading party men present we notice Hon. N. A. Farwell of Rockland, Hons. T. B. Reed, J. H. Drummond and H. B. Cleaves of Portland, ex-Gov. Dingley, S. T. Pullen of the Portland Press, and C. A. Boutelle of the Bangor Whig, Judge Walker of Lovell, Hon. W. H. Vinton of Gray, Hon. Chas. Buffum of Orono, Hon. Wm. Preble of Bath, Geo. D. Bisbee of Buckfield, J. S. Wright of Paris, and E. F. Webb of Waterville.

Burned by Lightning.

BIDDEFORD, Aug. 8.—The barn, stable and carriage house of Jotham Cleaves, North Kennebunkport, with carriages, sleighs, 40 tons of hay and farming tools, were totally destroyed last evening by lightning. Loss $3000; insured for $700 in the Ætna of Hartford.

WASHINGTON.

The President's Trip to Vermont.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Hayes leaves Monday for Vermont, accompanied by Postmaster General Key, Secretary McCrary, and either Secretary Thompson or Attorney General Devens. Secretary Evarts will join the party at Bennington, where they will remain two or three days.

Reinstatement of Major Runkle.

Major Runkle, sentenced to dismissal and imprisonment for misappropriating money in connection with the Freedmen's bureau in 1872, has been restored to the service. It was discovered that the sentence of the court martial was signed by Secretary Belknap and not by the President, as the law requires. President Hayes grve Major Runkle a special hearing, and decided the accusation was unfounded.

THE INDIANS.

Sitting Bull Again on the War-Path.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Consul Taylor at Winnipeg says that Sitting Bull and his hostile Sioux are near Wood Mountain, numbering 5000, of whom 1000 are warriors. Others estimate them at 9000, with 1800 warriors. They openly avow their intention to renew the campaign in Yellowstone Valley and seem determined to get ammunition, even resorting to threats to obtain it. On the 23d of June, near Sitting Bull's encampment, a war party of 27 Sioux robbed four traders of three kegs of powder and one keg of bullets. Besides Sitting Bull's band there is an equal number of Sioux from the Minnesota massacre of 1862, and three over whom Sitting Bull seems to exercise much influence.

VIRGINIA CONSERVATIVES.

Two Stormy Sessions.

Order Finally Restored, but no Definite Action Taken.

RICHMOND, Aug. 8.—The Virginia conservative convention met this noon, but the building was so overcrowded by outsiders that an effort to call the convention to order for a temporary organization proved a failure. After half an hour of confusion the convention adjourned till 2 p. m. There are five candidates for the nomination of Governor, and there will be a long dispute about the credentials of contesting delegations.

The convention reassembled at 2 20. The chairman of the state committee announced Col. Lamb as temporary chairman. Lamb addressed the convention. He spoke without interruption several minutes, and was launching forth in a strong speech in favor of preserving the credit of the commonwealth, when he was asked if that question was then under discussion. He replied it was not yet in order to criticise the speech of the chairman. He then attempted to proceed in the same strain in advocacy of maintaining the state's honor, but interruptions became so frequent and the confusion so great, he was forced to discontinue and announce that the chair was ready for business.

Resolutions were introduced for the appointment of committees on credentials, on permanent organization and resolutions. Two of the first resolutions were adopted amid much disorder, but the third was laid aside till permanent organization was effected. Upon call of the delegations by congressional districts to name the members of the committee, another scene of turbulence ensued. Several districts being divided in choice, and it being evident that no settlement could be arrived at, they were allowed to retire for consultation. The interior of the theatre up to this time was a perfect pandemonium, the body being more like a disorganized mob than an organized convention. From the indications it is evident that this state of affairs will continue to the end. Most bitter antagonism prevails between the friends of the candidates, particularly between those of Mahone and the anti-Mahonites.

During the absence of the delegations, who had retired to heal the differences, Governor Kemper, being present by invitation, briefly addressed the convention, counselling such harmony in the deliberations as would perpetrate the dignity, honor and glory of Virginia.

After the announcement of the committees on credentials and organization, the convention adjourned till evening.

When the convention reassembled at 8 o'clock the committee on permanent organization reported the name of Marshal Hanger for permanent chairman, with a long list of presidents and vice presidents, which were agreed to. Hanger addressed the convention, counselling harmony, calm deliberation, &c.

A resolution was passed providing that no man be placed in nomination for Governor who does not pledge himself to abide by any result reached by the convention and give to the ticket his support.

A committee on resolutions was then appointed. The committee on credentials was not ready to report and the convention adjourned till 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The session tonight was in marked contrast as regards harmony with the two sessions today. The indications are now that everything will pass off quietly to-morrow and result in harmonizing the antagonistic elements.

A Greenback Meeting.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 8.—At the greenback meeting tonight 1000 were present, mostly unemployed workingmen. Gen. Hoxsey and G. A. Beecher advocated paying the national bonds in greenbacks and substituting greenbacks for national bank notes. Advocated laborers combining to oppose the combination of capitalists; denounced money aristocracy, railroad corporations and bondholders, and said that the President should have issued a proclamation that labor was oppressed, and called a special session of Congress instead of sending troops against oppressed strikers. The speeches were warmly applauded, and arrangements were made to send delegates to the State Greenback Convention next Tuesday.

The California Mines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The California mine has declared a dividend of 2 per cent. The consolidated Virginia also dividend 2 per cent. The bullion produced by these mines for the past 30 days amounts to nearly $3,000,000. The receipts of bullion yesterday from the Bonanza mines were $711,000. The treasure exports since Jan. 1 are 21 millions.

Clyde ship-building strikers at Glasgow are arranging the difficulty by arbitration.

THE COAL STRIKERS.

Wilkesbarre's Petition for a Standing Army.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A special despatch says Wilkesbarre will petition for a permanent garrison of regulars. The troops have brought peace, but secret intimidation prevents a resumption of work.

At Scranton the miners manifest a determination to prolong the strike in Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys for six months. A meeting of delegates from every mine in Luzerne county is called, to secure unity of action. A mammoth store has been opened by the miners' executive committee, to relieve the immediate necessities of members in distress. Threats of vengeance when the military leave are freely expressed by strikers.

At Harrsburg, corporal Kendall of the Reading rifles, was court martialled and drummed out of camp for assisting the mob at Reading in attacking the militia. He will be tried by the civil authorities. The Reading company at the state arsenal is disbanded—a number of members having participated in the riotous proceedings in Reading.

The Strikers Charged with Murder.

SCANTON, Aug. 8.—Alderman Mahon's jury of inquest over those killed by the vigilance committee, brought in a verdict of murder against those of the committee whose names are known. A constable was given warrants T. P. Hunt and Charles E. Chittenden, and arrested them. They sent word to the militia and Gen. Hulidekoper took them from the constable. The vigilance committee at once assembled and are under arms in the Lackawanna company's store. The military are under arms and patrols are out to bring in every member of the committee lest they be arrested and taken into the 6th ward before the Aldermen. It is the worst locality in town, and if once there the life of those arrested would certainly be taken.

More Trouble at Port Johnson.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—There is more trouble at Port Johnson and Bergen Point among the coal heavers. This morning 25 old hands returned to work at the old wages. At noon they went home to dinner and were met at the end of the plank road by the strikers who attacked them with stockings filled stones. The men did not return to work in the afternoon. About 5 o'clock 70 Germans who had been working in the strikers places struck as the work was too hard and they are only making 60 cents a day instead of $1.50 as promised. Four hundred strikers called on Mayor Meigs, accompanied by Father Killeen, and asked him to call on the coal company and request them to pay decent prices. The Mayor promised to do what he could for them and urged them to keep the peace.

The Silk Weavers' Strike Ended.

PATERSON DEPOT, Aug. 8.—The silk weavers met tonight and agreed to complete the unfinished warps at Strange's mill, afterwards to receive the wages paid befor the reduction. This ends the strike. The hands who persuaded the mill owners to accept the scale list of prices complain that the wages are less than under employer's rates, and in some instances have asked to work under regime.

Iron and Steel Workers' Convention.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 8.—The convention of iron and steel workers today unanimously adopted resolutions setting forth that they firmly believe that the demand made by the railroad employes for restoration of the late ten per cent. reduction and a modification of the heretofore tyranical rules and orders was just and proper, having full faith that the railroad companies are fully able and should accede to the same; emphatically denounce acts tending to violation of the law, knowing full well that every violation of the law and disturbance of peace tends only to injure the cause of those engaged therein; that in every disagreement between employers and employes they believe in a policy of arbitration. Numerous memorials were presented by the members, which were referred to appropriate committees.

Kentucky Shooting Matches.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 8.—A special to the Courier-Journal, dated Harrodsburg, Ky., says that in a shooting affray at Maxville, Washington county, John Suttefield killed John Butler. The affair was the result of a difficulty over a sack of flour.

Another fight occurred near Millersburg, in which several families took part. One man, Sheridan, was killed and two wounded.

L. S. Brown was shot yesterday in this county and wounded in five different places, by a Smith boy, who is at large.

Review of the Portland Markets.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING AUGUST 8.

The markets are remarkably quiet just now. Prices have gone about as low as they can and consequently are at a general standstill. There are but few goods selling as merchants are only buying for immediate use. If this state of affairs should continue a few weeks it is plain that there must be a brisk fall trade in nearly all kinds of goods. The money market remains quiet. Gold closed Wednesday, August 8th, at $1.05.

Apples are arriving rather more freely this week and are of a better quality. Prices range from $1@6 per bbl. Beans are firm at unchanged prices. Butter is firm and we quote family lots at 24, and store at 15@18 cts. Cheese is steady and unchanged. Coffee is dull ,this week. Cooperage shows no movement. Copper and Cordage is unchanged. Alcohol is higher and is quoted at $2 30@$2.40 Duck is steady. Mackerel are still very scarce in the market and are not quotable. Flour is quiet and sales small. Spot Flour is very scarce for all grades. Fruit is unchanged. Corn is arriving quite freely and prices are lower. Hay is offering quite freely at the old prices. Iron is rather quiet and prices are rather easier this week; sight declines will be notice1 in the price list. Lard remains quiet and unchanged. Leather continues steady. Lumber is dull. Molasses is decidedly dull at unchanged prices. Oils exhibit no change. Onions are now arriving freely and prices are considerably reduced. Beef remains unchanged. Pork is very quiet. Sugars are lower and granulated is quoted at 11¼c and Extra C at 11. Teas are unchanged at the old quotations. Tobacco is quiet and without change.

New York Stock and Money Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—Evening.—Money closed at 2 per cent. on call. Gold opened and closed at 105¾; sales in the interim at 105¼. The borrowing rates were 1 to 2 per cent. and flat. The clearances were $13,316,000. The Customs receipts to-day were $241,000. The treasury disbursements were $81,000 for interest and 430,000 for bonds.. State bonds are quiet. Government bonds closed firm. Railroad bonds generally higher.

The stock market opened quiet except for Western Union, which declined under rumors of various kinds, but probably because it was understood a heavy operator had sold some 10,000 shares yesterday. Subsequent to the decline in this stock recovered, and during the day it fluctuated 1 or 2 per cent., finally closing steady.

The Wool Market

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—[Reported for the Press.]—The following is a list of prices quoted this afternoon:

Domestic—Ohio and Pennsylvania pick-lock 55@57c; do choice XX 50@52½c; do fine X 47@48c; medium 46@48c; coarse 43@45c; Michigan extra and XX 44@45c; fine 42@44c; medium 42@44c; common 40@42c; other Western fine and X 43@44c; medium 42@44c, common 40@42c; pulled extra 35@45c; superfine 35@46; No 1, 20@30c; combing fleece 53@57c; Fine delaine 50@55c; California 29@38c; Texas 36@37c; Canada pulled 40@45c; do combing 50@53; Smyrna washed 18@26c; do unwashed. 12@22c; Buenos Ayres 18@35c; Cape Good Hope 30@35c Australian 43@50c; Donskoi 18@22c.

There has been very little change to notice in Wool since our last. Manufacturers continue to purchase as wanted and the sales foot up a fair average. In prices no change.

Imports from January 1 to Aug. 4.

| | 1876. | 1877 |
|---|---|---|
| Foreign, bales | 16,217 | 25,460 |
| Domestic, bags and bales | 117,566 | 181,805 |

In New York, in consequence of light concessions made on the part of holders, manufacturers have entered the market in greater numbers, and their purchases have been quite large. There is, however, rather more firmness at the close, as holders in view of the prices paid in the country, claim that present quotations barely cover cost and expenses. On the other hand, manufacturers have taken orders for goods on a basis of prices ruling previous to the excitement, and they are, therefore, in a quandary as to how they are coming out at the end.

Mr. James Lynch's circular of the 1st says the active business reported in last circular continued well into July; prices advanced rapidly, and beyond the figures buyers would pay, so that sales fell off towards the close of the month, and at this writing the market is quiet. There is, however, a very firm feeling on the part of holders, and no disposition shown to press sales.

In Philadelphia the market continue firm, particularly for combing and clothing, but the cutting off of supplies by the strikers has materially curtailed business. Unwashed sells freely, but in fine fleeces the transactions are unimportant. Almost every house in Philadelphia loses by the destruction of the cars at Pittsburg.

Brighton Cattle Market.

For the week ending Wednesday, Aug. 8.

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3900; Sheep and Lambs 1127; swine 4500; number of Western Cattle 3,172; Eastern Cattle 328; Milch Cows and Northern Cattle 175; left over 225.

Prices of Beef Cattle ℔ 100 lbs, live weight—Extra at $7 00@7 50; first quality at $6 50@6 87½; second quality at $6 00@6 37½; third quality at $5 25@5 87½; poorest grades of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., at 3 00@4 75.

Brighton Hides 7½@8 cents ℔ lb. Brighton Tallow—@6c ℔ lb.

Country Hides 7 @7½c ℔ lb; Country Tallow 0@5c ℔ lb.

Calf Skins 10@11c ℔ lb; sheared Sheep Skins at 25c.

Working Oxen—There has been a fair supply in market, but the trade for Working Oxen has been very dull and the supply larger than the demand required. We quote sales as follows:

| Pair. | Girth. | Live Weight. | Pr Pair |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 pair | 6 feet 6 inches | 2500 lbs | $110 |
| 1 pair | 6 8 | 2700 | 125 |
| 1 pair | 6 9 | 2700 | 125 |

Store Cattle—Yearlings $11@$15; two year olds $16@27; three year olds $25@$45 ℔ head. Prices for small Cattle depend much upon their value for Beef. Most of the small that in fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Milch Cows—Extra at $55@$95; ordinary $25@$50. Prices do not vary much from week to week. Good Cows most always command a ready sale at fair prices.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the West and Maine were all taken to the Abattoir to be slaughtered. Northern Sheep and Lambs sold at prices ranging from 4@7c ℔ lb.

Swine—Columbia County Pigs, wholesale 7@7½c; retail 8@8½c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs 7200; prices 6½c ℔ lb

At the soldiers' and sailors' reunion at the islands on the 28th, 29th and 30th inst., Gen. J. C. Robinson, Ex-Governor of New York, and Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be present.

The Advertiser learns that a gentleman has made a bet to walk from Pond Cove, Cape Elizabeth, to the ferry, and on arrival here, to the Portland Post Office, to-morrow morning, starting at 7 a. m. and arriving at 8 a. m.

Albert North of Saccarappa, went in bathing in the Presumpscot a few days ago, and being imbecile, forgot where he left his clothes. He wandered in the woods two days, entirely nude, subsisting on raspberries, and was finally found by one of the villagers.

Robert I. Robinson of this city, owns an old diploma issued to his grandfather, Thomas in 1767 by Union Lodge of Masons in Detroit, Michigan. He also owns a beautiful gold Masonic jewel which came from the same source. The Women's Temperance Society meets Saturday, at 3 o'clock, in the library room of the Y. M. C. A.

YACHT REGATTA.—The challenge race for the second class sloop cup, for yachts belonging to the Portland Yacht Club, will be sailed on Thursday next, to start at 1 p. m, and go over the usual club course for yachts of the second class. The following yachts have challenged the sloop Mary, Capt. Peters, the present holder of the challenge cup:

Georgia, Capt. J. H. Richardson, Yarmouth.
Casco, Capt. J. S. Soule, Freeport.
Gracie, Capt. Wm. Senter, Jr.
Willie, Capt. Stanwood.
Idler, Capt. Geo. Owen.
Twilight, Capt. Charleston.

FRYEBURG ACADEMY.—The reunion of the alumni of the Fryeburg Academy, which was noticed in our columns Monday will take place at Fryeburg in the month of August, 1878, and not in Augusta as stated.

OLD ORCHARD CAMP-MEETING.

Second Day.

It is very evident that camp-meetings at Old Orchard are not so popular this year as in previous. Whether the crowd is kept away by "hard times" or the interest taken in these gatherings has abated, it is certain that there is not so large an attendance at present, nor is there likely to be the immense concourse of past meetings. The number of actual residents at the ground is larger by far than ever before, a fact that makes the small attandance this year more anomolous. Still with good weather there will undoubtedly be a great increase of transient visitors before the close of the week, which will largely swell the audiences and make the meeting a success, so far as numbers are concerned.

The meetings yesterday, as in the opening day, were entirely of a social nature, numerous short addresses supplying the place of set speeches and lengthy orations. The first meeting was held at 8 o'clock in the house of the Biddeford society.

At 10 o'clock a fair audience gathered at the stand, and after an introductory prayer by Rev. C. C. Cone, Hon. Sidney Perham, Vice President of the association, referred to the absence of Gov. Connor, and in well chosen words gave an account of the causes of intemperance and urged the importance of temperance work. Prof. George E. Foster of the Brunswick University, New Brunswick, gave a very interesting account of the temperance camp-meeting at Thousand Islands, and spoke in the highest terms of the reform work of Dr. Reynolds and Francis Murphy. Hon. Frederick Douglass of Washington, was then introduced and made a short speech, comparing the liberty of the reformed man from the chains of appetite to the freedom of the slave.

The afternoon meeting was called in the Biddeford house, which was crowded with interested listeners. Mr. M. G. Palmer of this city presided, and stirring temperance speeches were made by E. O. Foss. Capt. Sturdivant, La Forest Howe and others. The remarks in reference to the duty of young ladies in temperance work excited considerable attention. The speakers recommended that young ladies furnish their parlor tables with pledges, which young gentlemen should be invited to sign or ——. There was a large crowd gathered around the door, and after prayer by Capt. Sturdivant the meeting was adjourned to the stand where speeches were made by Rev. C. B. Pitblado, E. O. Foss and Rev. O. M. Cousins. Especially good were the remarks of Mr. Pitblado.

In the evening a social meeting was held, at which many reformed men spoke of their experience.

Ex-Gov. Perham will speak to-day.

Gen. John L. Swift is expected during the week.

BASE BALL.

Our Boys 4, Dirigos 3.

The game yesterday afternoon at the Park, between Our Boys of Boston, and the Dirigos of this city, was full of variety enough to suit everybody. The game was close enough to be exciting, and Campbell split his hand open in the third inning, but played the game out; Then in the sixth inning, Bergh, not to be outdone by his competitor, caught a hot foul tip in his throat that shut off his wind for one inning, Donnavan coming in to catch and Sullivan going to right field, Bergh, however, took his place in the eighth and caught the rest of the game. The Dirigos started off with two runs on errors of the catcher, first and third bases, and short stop of the Our Boys. They added one more in the third inning on errors by the pitcher and catcher.

The Our Boys scored one in the third inning on errors of catcher and pitcher, and three in the sixth on errors of the second baseman and catcher, and a two base hit by Donnovan and singles by Fair and Tierney. The Our Boys out-batted the Dirigos, but the Dirigos did the best fielding. Mr. Noble umpired the game in his usual impartial and satisfactory manner.

The annexed score will give all needed particulars:

THE NEW ENGLAND FAIR.—The trustees of the Maine Society were in session nearly all day yesterday. They have decided to have the La Crosse clubs play on the grounds Wednesday and Thursday of Fair week. The executive committee of the Patrons of Husbandry appeared before the trustees and asked to have one day of the Fair devoted to their interests. The trustees thought favorable of it and will hold a meeting to-day to decide finally. It is expected that Thursday will be assigned them. The officers will appear in uniform on that day and sort of run the whole thing. In the afternoon the trustees held a meeting at the banking rooms of J. B. Brown & Sons, to hear the complaint of the Winthrop Jersey breeders. They were represented by N. R. Pike, who laid down the case substantially as was printed in the PRESS of yesterday. The trustees replied that the premiums were arranged by the New England trustees and they (the Maine trustees) had no authority to change the matter. It seems that as Mr. Pike objected to accepting the separate premiums offered, the same were withdrawn and now there is nothing to bring this stock to the Fair. Mr. Pike intimated that he should not exhibit any of the Winthrop Jerseys this year.

It has been decided to floor over the galleries in City Hall for the Fair, which will give about fifteen additional feet in width for exhibitors, and also to arrange three rows of shelves all around the hall. The Reception Hall will be devoted to musical instruments and sewing machines, and the hall in the third story to the art gallery and floral exhibition.

NEW MUSIC.—We have received from Oliver Ditson & Co. another package of fine pieces of music. There is "The Birdie's Ball," a merry song with chorus, and with a picture that will delight the little ones who see it. Then there is "My poor Heart is Sad with its Dreaming," with an elegant title page, and very expressive music, and "Unrequited," one of Pinsuti's elegant compositions, with English words and Italian style. Then for piano players we have "Come, my Love," a galop, which is one of a set called "The Telephone," containing twenty easy pieces composed by Mack, also "Whispering Waves," by J. L. Frank, a smooth-going piano piece of medium difficulty, and lastly, the "Unique Galop," by Howard Cadmus, with a strange and brilliant title and brilliant music. Examine them at the music stores.

FALMOUTH ENCAMPMENT EXCURSION.—The Encampment, in uniform, headed by Chandler's Band, will leave the city next Wednesday by steamer to Boston, breakfasting at the Adams House, and proceed thence by the Boston and Albany road to Worcester, arriving in Worcester at 11 o'clock a. m., taking quarters at the Bay State House during the visit, which will be until the afternoon of Friday, the 17th, when they will return by the same route, reaching home on Saturday morning.

STOLEN TEAM RECOVERED.—Yesterday morning Amasa Polleys of Baldwin, who was in town in search of a valuable colt stolen from him recently, discovered the animal in a blacksmith shop. The thief also stole a gig and harness in Lisbon and brought the team to this city. The horse was replevined as the blacksmith refused to give him up.

THE LAKE SEBAGO REGATTA.—The four-oared race between the Union and Loring crews on the 15th inst. will, without doubt, prove a great feature. The crews are made up as follows:

Loring crew—Loring, stroke, E. Reardon, D. O'Connell, Conley, bow.
Union crew—F. Driscoll, stroke, T. Hartnett, T. Favra, T. Burke, bow.

Reunion of First Maine Cavalry.

About 75 veterans, many of them accompanied by ladies, attended the annual reunion of Maine's famous cavalry regiment at the Ocean House, Old Orchard Beach yesterday. The forenoon was pleasantly passed with the hearty welcoming of old comrades and in talking over the gallant deeds and jovial hours of the field and bivouac.

The ladies and a few gentlemen found amusement in croquet (wouldn't polo be more be appropriate for veteran cavaliers?)

At 1.30 the association was called to order for the transaction of business, the President, Major Paul Chadbourne of Saco, in the chair. It was voted to hold the next runion in Augusta, the time to be fixed by the local committee. The following officers were elected:

President—Major John D. Myrick of Augusta.

Vice President—Sergeant Henry Little of Auburn.

Corresponding Secretary—Lieut. O. S. Haskell of Pittsfield.

Recording Secretary—Lieut. John R. Andrews.

Treasurer—Sergeant Windsor B. Smith of Portland.

The usual reports of the Secretary and Treasurer were read and acted on.

Sergeant W. B. Smith, Major S. W. Thaxter and comrade J. T. Darling, all of this city, were appointed to procure a suitable case for the preservation of the regimental colors, and place them in charge of Bosworth Post, G. A. R.

At 2 o'clock the command invested the large dining hall, and after a short seize, during which Rev. I. Luce gave thanks, the works before them were carried by storm in obedience to "general order No. 1, charge on the works before you." Never did the flashing sabres of the heroic 1st do more deadly or quicker work than the more peaceful weapons of the table upon the splendid dinner of mine host.

Then amid the evidences of destructive carnage the comrades gathered for the usual after dinner rejoicing. The first speech was by Adjutant General Cilley, who strongly urged upon the veterans the preservation of all journals, diaries, reminiscences, etc., of warfare, and asked that all such documents be sent to him that they may be preserved.

Frederick Douglass, Marshal of the District of Columbia, made an eloquent speech, in which he said that this was was the first time that a negro had been seated by invitation at table next an ex-Governor, referring to Gov. Perham who was seated by his side. He also referred to the pleasure of these reunions, and happily said that it was only by retrospection that we make progress. Ex-Gov. Perham expressed his pleasure at meeting the veterans and spoke of the return of soldiers to peaceful life.

Rev. I. Luce and Prof. S, E. Foster of New Brunswick, also made remarks. The civilians having finished, many of the veterans spoke, giving interesting and amusing sketches of life in the camp and field. Among those were Col. H. H. Burbank, Maj. Thaxter, Capt. Geo. Prince, who related a touching incident of hospital life, Major Prince of Biddeford, Lieut. E. P. Tobie of the Providence Journal, and many others. After three rousing cheers for Col. Smith, who was absent, the regiment adjourned till another year.

Results of the Storm of Tuesday.

Returns from the back towns show that the storm of Tuesday night was much more severe back in the country than near the sea. In North Gray New Gloucester, Pownal and vicinity the rain turned to hail about 7 o'clock. The hail stones were of enormous size and they struck with great force, breaking the stoutest window glass at the first blow. Cephas Merrill's house in West Gloucester lost one hundred panes, E. C. Marston's in Pownal 144, and A. D. Sweetsir's of the same town 90. Chas. Sampson's house also lost 150. The hail also did much damage to the crops. The corn in the vicinity of Gorham suffered severely. No correct estimate of the damages can yet be made.

The barns destroyed in West Falmouth belonged to Nathaniel Leighton. They were burned to the ground with fifty tons of hay and a mowing machine. The buildings were insured for $700.

At Sebago Lake, Mr. F. A. Littlefield was standing in the door of his house, when a bolt descended, shattering the stable and killing a horse valued at $300. Mr. S. L. Hill's stable, adjoining, was also struck and completely destroyed. Loss, apart from the horse, about $400.

The fishing schooner Annie Bell was making her way into the harbor and at 7 o'clock was about five miles off the Cape, when suddenly a bolt of lightning struck in the water near the vessel. All of the crew were immediately paralyzed. It was some time before any of them recovered, and even yesterday the captain said his head ached badly. The vessel was not injured.

The yacht Halcyon of Swampscott, arrived in the harbor in the afternoon and anchored off Custom House wharf. A fine large flag was thrown to the breeze, but after the shower had passed it was discovered that a bolt of lightning had destroyed it, although the yacht itself was not injured in the least. The shipping in the harbor was pretty thoroughly stirred up and the schooner Cynosure lost her jib and mainsail.

The Island steamers had a pretty rough time but they all made their regular trips. The passengers on the Gazelle were fearfully frightened.

Mr. Cousins, the Street Commissioner, finds the streets generally badly washed. Commercial street was a sad plight to behold yesterday morning. The sand from the cross streets had washed down on to the pavement in great quantities. The whole department was employed the entire day in clearing up this one street alone. There are no very bad washouts but lots of small ones. The damage to the streets is about $300.

From the Signal Service Station it is learned that 2.32 inches of rain fell from 6.30 p. m. to 8.29 p. m., the heaviest fall in the space of time recorded since the establishment of the signal service in this city.

A party of gentlemen from this city were on Duck Pond in a boat during the whole rain, and report it quite damp, but say there was no hail. There was no damage done in that vicinity.

THE GREAT WALK.—Miss von Hillern arrived in the city last evening from Newburyport and took rooms at the Preble House, where she is to remain until after her walk is completed. She is in excellent health and spirits, and speaks in a very cheerful manner of the task she is to undertake tomorrow evening. She says she will make the quickest time if feeling well Friday evening, for then there will be a large attendance and she can afford to exert herself. She was much pleased when informed of the large sale of tickets, and said that it was an evidence that the Portland people were taking an interest in walking.

Chandler's Band has been engaged to furnish music during the entire walk. Extra musicians will be required, for however good this band is, they are hardly equal to 26 hours' continuous blowing. The steamer Tourist is to run to Peakes' Island at the close of the exhibition Saturday evening. The outlook is promising for a crowded house throughout the walk.

BISHOP'S SERENADERS.—Last evening the Bishop Serenaders appeared at Miss Marsh's Theatre, after an absence from the city for five years. The show is "variety" in every sense of the word. The first part consists of songs and jokes. The songs were well rendered by the four troubadours. The jokes were mostly too feeble to be out after dark, but then they pleased the gallery gods. The Daly brothers, four in number, appeared in the second part, and their clog dancing was unusually fine. They were recalled several times. Tierney's contortion acts were good. The singing of the troubadour quartette was the event of the evening, and they were recalled three or four times. The grand change act by the Daly brothers was also excellent. Frank Melrose, the one-leg trapeze performer, did some good feats, which were well received. There was a good house present. The entertainment will be repeated the remainder of the week.

CAUCUSES—At a Republican caucus in Westbrook yesterday afternoon the following gentlemen were chosen to attend the state convention: S. A. Carewell, Elisha Newcomb, Chas. E. Boody, N. K. Griggs, W. L. Warren, Chas. B. Woodman. County convention, F. M. Ray, I. F. Quimby, W. L. Warren, Chas. E. Boody, John E. Warren, W. K. Dana. The delegates to the county convention are in favor of James M. Webb for Register of Deeds.

New Gloucester—State convention, S. H. Chandler, N. Rideout, N. S. Shurtleff and Seth F. Sweetsir; county convention, Dr. J. I. Sturgis, Dr. W. Merrill and J. B. Hammond.

Personal.

Hon. Fred Douglass is at Old Orchard.

Mr. Geo. C. Rexford, Superintendent of music in the public school in New York city, is stopping with E. B. Robinson at East Deering.

V. C. A and P. C.

CAMP S. E. SPRING, Aug. 8, 1877.

Mr. Leavitt promptly sent us out a new tent last evening, but as soon after its arrival we had several editions, "revised and corrected," of thunder storms, we concluded not to pitch it last evening, but depend upon the hospitality of Capt. Strout for shelter from the storm. We could not have sought a better haven. To the untiring attentions of himself and family we are very largely indebted, nothing being left undone that could enhance our pleasure and comfort. The soaking we all got, instead of dampening, had an enlivening effect on the spirits of all. It would be difficult to crowd more real enjoyment into the hours than we experienced last evening. Robinson seemed to uncork himself for the occasion, and all the fun and humor bottled up in that brain and heart of his were freely dispensed to "wing with joy the fleeting hours."

We have been told that you had no high wind in the city at the time of our mishap. Here a tornado raged, accompanied with the pattering of hail. On a little side hillock our flagstaff was raised. It was strongly guyed up, and you would hardly believe that the wind could have prostrated it. But it was the first thing that gave way. Then the tent began to sway to and fro, and despite he efforts of a dozen men, down it soon came with a crash. Brother Lowell had rather a narrow squeak, as the ridge-pole in falling struck his hat, knocking it from his head. Of course when the tent came down we all went down with it, some creeping under the table for the poor shelter it afforded. The more I think of the conduct of the ladies—prostrated beneath the canvas, deluged with rain, the lightning flashing, the thunder pealing and the tempest howling—the more admirable does it appear.

Last evening was a wild one. There seemed to be a succession of thunder storms, some coming down the Saco and some the Presumpscot, and finally, meeting at Portland Head they raged battle with each other. The lightning flashed incessantly and there was a continuous roar of thunder, while the rain fell as if a second deluge was at hand. Just before the commencement of the storm ex-Collector Washburn with his lady and daughter arrived, and sought shelter with our host. They remained with us two or three hours, and to while away the time the boys treated them to various part pieces from the Pirate's glee, "Blow on, blow on," to music of a less boisterous character, occasionally introducing some familiar hymn tune, in which all joined, singing with the spirit and the understanding also. Mr. Robinson, you may well believe, was not backward in contributing to the fund of enjoyment, giving us unnumbered specimens of his talents—recitations, stories and songs, ranging from the grave to the gay, from the sublime to the ridiculous. Notwithstanding the storm raging out-o'-door, never did a party more thoroughly enjoy themselves. The ex-Collector entered fully into the spirit of the occasion. Before he left he remarked to us that he now fally comprehended why the V. C. A.'s looked forward with such interest to their anniversary. His party left us in a lull of the storm. But before they could have reached home the elemental warfare recommenced with unabated fury, and not a little anxiety was expressed in behalf of the party.

We had rather a late supper, owing to general disarrangement of affairs, after which, until the wee sma' hours, merriment was in order, not boisterous, yet of a character, though quiet, decidedly side-splitting.

This morning the new tent was pitched, but we took our breakfast in the light-keeper's dwelling, and a glorious one it was, thanks to the good offices of the lady of the house. A heavy fog set in just then, and we were regaled for some hours with the music of the fog-horn. As variety is the spice of life, this fog-blanket helped to season the experiences of this jaunt of ours.

A business meeting was called soon after breakfast, at which W. A. Winship, C. O. Leach and C. C. Tolman were chosen a committee to provide a new tent for the association. A vote of thanks was passed to "Mabel" for her beautiful floral gift; also to retiring Commissary Winship for the admirable and every way satisfactory manner in which he had discharged his duties. Permit me to add that the compliment was eminently a deserving one, as all who are acquainted with that genial gentleman, and his happy tact in the performance of his official duties, will testify.

Among our guests at dinner today we had the pleasure of welcoming the honorary member for whom the camp was named, who was accompanied by Surveyor True, whose presence is always hailed with hearty zest. The former was greeted on his arrival and departure with the usual round of cheers. Quite a bevy of young ladies with their gallants also visited us and partook of a late dinner, the boys meantime tendering them a serenade. Our old visitor, the fog, about this time took possession of the camp. As its company was not very desirable, at rather an earlier hour than usual preparations were made for departure—the tents struck, the colors lowered, accompanied by the cheers of the boys, each of whom, by the way, wore a badge made from the remants of the old tent, fancifully fashioned, and bearing appropriate devices and inscriptions, one of the former being the representation of a balloon taking flight.

At 7 o'clock we all embarked in Chase's team for home, tendering the keeper of the light and his amiable family a hearty cheer, which was but a feeble expression of our sense of the kindness they had shown us.

In closing my report as above, I had supposed that the festivities of this anniversary were over; that nothing remained but the ride home, which we hoped would be speedily accomplished; indeed our indefatigable commissary had given the notice that the "view upon the Kennebec" would not be exhibited again until next year. But we had not proceeded far upon our way when the genial face of our friend, George S. Hunt, Esq., of your city, greeted us at the entrance of his cottage by the sea, and with words too persuasive to be resisted, invited us to tarry awhile and partake of his hospitality. The invitation could not be declined, and we entered his hospitable mansion and received from his family a cordial welcome.

It soon became evident that the measure of jollity had not been all exhausted under the canvass. After partaking of a bountiful collation, served by the ready hands of the ladies of the house, an hour of song and story telling passed most agreeably. It really seemed as though the songsters of the club had "tuned their lyres anew," and the "Larboard Watch" never heard the sonorous "Ahoy" in more ringing tones than fell upon the delighted ears of the listeners, and the story of the Dutchman's party, told especially for the children, will cause them to remember with pleasure the occasion which gave them an opportunity to postpone to a late hour "the time for bed." But all things and times must end, so this, one of the best times on the road, had its ending by a speech of Commissary Winship, who, in well chosen words in behalf of the club, returned thanks to our host and his family for their kind reception and generous entertainment. We took our leave amid the kind adieus of the friends who had added so much to our pleasure, and were soon driven to our homes, there to receive the welcome greetings of the loved ones waiting our coming. PIC.

YACHT NOTE.—At 1.30 p. m. Tuesday the yacht "Halcyon" of Boston was sighted off Cape Elizabeth. She sailed up towards the harbor, and near the Portland Light was saluted by the "Cunner Club," which salute she acknowledged by rounding to and firing two guns. She had on board Geo. H. Brooks, owner, with wife and son, J. S. Trowbridge, wife and son, and Wm. E. Locke, all from Boston. While lying at anchor in the harbor during the heavy shower of Tuesday night she was struck by lightning, carrying away her forward signals, otherwise fortunately receving no other damage. The "Halcyon" is of 125 tons burden and is considered to be one of the fastest yachts in America. She will leave this port for Portsmouth this morning.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following are the real estate transfers recorded in this county yesterday:

Cape Elizabeth—Mary S. Joyce to Andrew S. Sawyer, 25 acres and 132 square rods for $1400.

Scarboro—Wm. H. Baxter to J. B. Brown et al. 33 acres for $500.

Miss Von Hillern.

MR. EDITOR: Were Miss Von Hillern able to read and write English, she would certainly reply to her feminine critics. As it is, she is said to be wholly ignorant of their communications, and it is the knowledge of her inability to answer them which has created such a widespread sympathy for the little foreigner. In regard to her being a "professional", if by that term is meant anything derogatory to her character, such assumption is by no means justified. Although she works for money, it can scarcely be supposed that her critic does not do the same. JUSTICE.

Portland, August 8, 1877.

Uncalled For.

The Advertiser seems to think that the communications recently published in the PRESS from Teacher and Health on the subject of Miss Von Hillern's walking were uncalled for And so indeed they were, so far as the editors of the PRESS are concerned. And probably they were uncalled for by the mere lovers of excitement, horse racing, ring fighting and such things. But the good common sense of the community, even though it may not be in a majority, calls for a hearing now and then, and we have reason to be thankful that our editors do not generally suppress its utterance, even though it be, in the mind of the Advertiser, the feeble result of close confinement or island excursions. No doubt Miss Von Hillern will have a crowd of spectators next Saturday. Hundreds will doubtless go to see her that never earned enough in their lives to pay half their expenses. As a professional we know nothing against Miss Von Hillern, but we do object to her advertising her outrageous walks under the head of "physical culture." True culture always strives to avoid excess; leads not to it but warns against it. Real lovers of culture cannot therefore encourage her in these cruel undertakings. And we cannot for the life of us see how persons possessed of a sensitive, pitying disposition can bear to see the poor girl tramp round and round that hall just for the avowed purpose of testing her utmost powers of endurance. Horse racing is bad enough, but woman racing is simply damnable in the opinion of HEALTH.

STATE NEWS.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.

Mr. Henry H. Moody of Phillips, died suddenly Saturday afternoon in the depot at West Farmington, just after the passenger train had arrived, which is due about half past five. How it is Done.

The first object in life with the American people is to "get rich;" the second, how to regain good health. The first can be obtained by energy, honesty and saving; the second, (good health,) by using GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER. ## FARM AND HOUEHOLD.

Straw for Feeding Cattle.

In view of the enlarged demand for cattle food in supplying the prospective increase in the domestic and foreign trade for beef, and also in consideration of the fact that our hay crop is short in many sections, it becomes desirable to investigate the economy and practicability of the use of straw, as a supplementary food for animals.

Not many years since the agricultural world considered straw as almost worthless for feeding purposes, notwithstanding it had always been used as cattle food in all the warm Eastern countries, and that even Spain, poor example as she is in anything progressive, had imported heavy machinery from England for straw-pulping, to render this article soft and silky, and, in fact, to duly prepare it for animal digestion. Within the past few years straw has been used for feeding largely by the most intelligent and successful feeders in England, who are fully convinced, after continued experiments, that the most economical use of food rich in albuminous matter is in connection with straw or other materials deficient in this element.

The straw of the cereals, when properly harvested, contains from twenty to forty per cent. of undoubled nutriment. As compared with white turnips the value of oat straw is very considerable, since while the former contains but little over one per cent. of flesh-formers and less than five per cent. fat-formers, the straw includes four per cent. flesh-formers and over thirteen per cent. fat-formers. Again, whilst the amount of woody fibre in turnips is only about three per cent. it constitutes over sixty per cent. of the straw. In comparison with hay, oat straw contains nearly thirty per cent. as great a quantity of fatty matter, with over seventy per cent. as much of flesh-forming constituents; the straw also contains over double the amount of woody fibre, which latter element, when the straw is cut at the proper time, German chemists have discovered contains forty to sixty per cent. of its bulk capable of assimilation by ruminating animals.

If straw is allowed to over-ripen a large proportion of its nutritive principle is lost, without corresponding advantage to the grain, since if allowed to stand after the upper portion of the stem has changed from a green to a yellowish color, the kernel also loses a portion of its nitrogenous and valuable constituents. Pea-haulm is the most nutritious; next oat straw, then wheat straw barley straw, and finally bean straw without the pods. The average straw contains, approximately, one part of oil, four parts flesh-formers, ten parts gum, sugar and other fat-formers, with thirty parts of digestible fibre. Since straw is relatively deficient in the flesh-forming principles and abounds in fatformers, if there is added a due proportion of some substance very rich in flesh-formers and oil, the compound will become a valuable substance for feeding. Linseed meal is best adapted for this purpose, since it contains twenty-four per cent. of flesh-formers, thirty-fine per cent. of a very bland oil and twenty-four per cent. of gum, sugar and mucilage.

The manurial value of straw is very insignificant, and is chiefly useful as an absorbent; it is worth more for feeding than for the compost heap or than for sale at prevailing low prices; to a certain extent it is useful for bedding purposes, although in England, its feeding value is fully recognized and appreciated, sparred floors, or those made of joists or boards, with intermediate openings, are used in cattle barns, avoiding the necessity of straw or other bedding. As cattle food straw should be run through the hay cutter, chopped fine, and its value is largely increased by soaking in water, steaming, cooking or fermenting. Immense quantities of straw are fed out in England, cut fine and mixed with sliced roots, linseed meal or grain; all the bean straw is consumed, and after being cut up, moistened and softened, is considered of a value equal to two-thirds that of hay.

Straw is of much less value when fed alone than when used along with highly nitrogenized foods, but when mixed with small quantities of rich food like oil-meal, bean-meal, or grain, espacially after steaming, will give far better results than such expensive food would alone; as a matter of bulk and firmness it assists in the process of digestion and absorption. When it is intended to utilize straw as food, the crop should be cut somewhat earlier than usual, though not to interfere with the ripening of the grain. While European farmers have long since adopted the use of straw as cattle food, and consider it great waste to use it even as bedding or as manure, the subject is well worthy the careful and intelligent trial of the American farmer, at least in a moderate way, until the general public in this country may become as thoroughly convinced of its value as is the British farmer.

Farm Stock.

It seems to me that many breeders make make a great mistake in paying too little attention to the health and constitutional vigor of their live stock. While making a great effort to breed to certain styles and forms and shades of color, they neglect the far weightier matters of health and vital power. I like to see an animal with a perfect form and a beautiful color, but I consider good health, hardiness and strong digestive organs worth good deal more than either of these, or both combined. For, no matter how beautiful an animal may be, if it has not strong power of digestion it will not thrive and cannot be made a source of profit. But, on the other hand, a creature may be very imperfectly formed, badly colored, and as far as outward appearances are concerned, a very inferior animal, and yet be a profitable one to keep. As it is from the food that material for growth must be supplied, and as food can do no good unless it is digested, it follows that strong digestive powers are indispensible to growth and productiveness. If an animal cannot digest a sufficient quantity of food, it cannot be made a source of profit to its owner. Yet we often see animals that have good blood in their veins whose power of digestion and assimilating food are very feeble. They have been fed with special reference to other things, and without regard to constitutional vigor. I am sure that with proper care these things can be secured, together with beauty of color and perfection of form, and it seems to me that such a combination is an object worth striving to secure.—Practical Farmer.

A Wash for Trees.

Solomon Jewett, one of the most noted farmers of Vermont, writes to the New York World: "Apply a wash of lime to the bodies of the trees. It will save them from the attack of many a pest which domicils in the bark and sap-wood. You will find that the old bark will fall off, leaving smooth, fresh, healthy wood on the surface. It is also a good preventive from the attacks of the several species of borer. Be careful to wash very close to the ground and upwards.

Tar is not advisable. Do not apply it to the bark of any growing tree; it is a common but bad practice. Tar penetrates the sap-wood, checks the growth of bark at the point at which it binds the tree, and checks the circulation up and down where applied. In 1825 I used a barrel of tar, with a brush running a band around each tree. While chopping down the old trees afterwards I saw the effects. The bark and sap-wood were colored, and the body was smaller under the belt of tar. That year I assisted in destroying at least 60 bushels of "forest worms," much resembling the common nest apple tree worm. Our trees were saved from ruin, and bore much fruit, while the surrounding orchards stood leafless and much injured. A long, cold storm was pending, while the worm in chrysalis was housed in his cocoon that year, by the million. A long rain and severe chill killed them off at that early stage. Orchards and forests of maple trees have not been materially injured since by this species of worm.

SWEET APPLE PUDDING.—One pint of scalded milk, half a pint of Indian meal, one one teaspoonful of salt, six sweet apples cut in small pieces, one teacuptul of finely choppep suet, two great tpoonfuls of molasses, half a teaspoonful of ginger, nutmeg or cinnamon,—whichever is most desirable, two eggs well beaten, and half a teaspoonful of soda. Beat well together, put into a pudding-mould and boil two hours.

MEDICAL.

The Preventive and Antidotal Power —OF— Holman's Liver Pad.

As a preventive of any disease that attacks the vitals, the Pad is worth many times its weight in gold. It is impossible to compute the value of a discovery which, without medicine, may be absolutely relied upon to prevent the most dangerous maladies. Nothing is truer than the old saying, that Prevention is better than Cure.

The Pad will prevent Fever and Ague. Worn according to directions, the most delicate system may defy malaria, and come forth as safe as the three Hebrew children, in the Old Testament story, did from the furnace of fire. This is absolutely certain, and has been proven over and over and over again.

It will prevent Yellow Fever, Chagres Fever, Typhoid Fever, Remittant Fever, Bilious Fever, Congestive Fever, and fevers of all kinds. This has been tested and proven in so many instances that we state it positively and without qualification.

It will prevent Colds, and protect weak lungs against comfirmed disease. It is better than all the chest-protectors ever made. No one was ever attacked with Diptheria while wearing the Pad.

It will prevent Summer Complaint and keep the bowels regular. For this purpose alone the Pad is worth many times its cost in summer, when these terrible ailments prevail.

It will prevent Dyspepsia If you feel the premonitory symptoms of this hydra-headed monster coming on, don't attempt to correct them with "Bitters," "Bonks," and "Cordials," but put on a Pad. It is the best and safest of tonics.

It will prevent Heart Disease. Organic diseases of the heart are incurable. The true way to avoid contracting them is to regulate the first symptoms by wearing Holman's Pad.

It will prevent Chronic Internal Rheumatism and Neuralgia, often fatally fatal. This has been demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt, to the joy and gratitude of scores of sufferers, who were wise enough to apply the remedy in time.

It will prevent Sick Headaches. If the Pad is put on when the first symptoms appear, the attack will be avoided. Think of this, ye martyrs to the painful malady.

In short, Holman's Ague and Liver Pad is the most perfect preventive of diseases affecting the vital organs that has ever been discovered; and the great feature of the treatment, and the one which renders it precious beyond estimation, has already been spoken of, but cannot be too much enlarged upon. It is, that no medicine is taken into the stomach.

The habit of pouring medicines into the Stomach, in the hope of curing diseases that depend upon the Liver, is not only absurd, but wicked.

Endorsed by Thousands.—It has been endorsed by hundreds of thousands of earnest, intelligent living witnesses, who will tell you that Holman's Pad is the cheapest, most effective, the pleasantest, most convenient, surest and most satisfactory curative and preventive and thorough liver and system regulator yet discovered.

We do not think it extravagant to say that the Liver Pad marks the beginning of a new era in medicine. This happy combination of absorbents, acting specifically upon the Liver and Stomach, removes from the system the poisonous principle which paralyzes its action, and restores a normal condition of health in a manner that is absolutely wonderful. This was when such a proposition could only have been accounted for upon the theory of Divine or infernal interposition; but the age of witchcraft has passed, and men now attribute results to—logical causes.

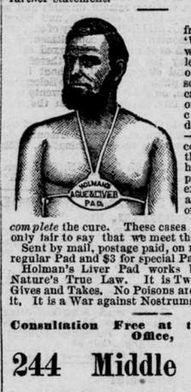
OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the Boston Daily Globe, March 5, 1877.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.—Not since the introduction of vaccination by Jenner has any medical discovery began to equal in importance that of absorption, as illustrated in Holman's Liver and Ague Pad. Strange as it may seem to those who have not investigated its curative power, evidences are overwhelming that this simple device, composed of harmless vegetable compounds, placed over the vitals, liver and stomach, will,in a remarkably short space of time, master any of the long catalogue of diseases having their origin in a torpid liver or diseased stomach. Surely Boston and its vicinity will give the Pad a hearty welcome.

From the Boston Post, May 5, 1877.

THE AGE OF SCIENCE.—The wonderful success of the "Holman Liver Pad" in this section of the country proves conclusively what science is doing in the nineteenth century to alleviate the suffering of humanity What a power this wonderful discovery is can only be appreciated by those who have suffering from the old system of nauseous, nauseous, poisonous drugs, and who, within a few weeks past, have been made happy by the use of this simple restorative. Over 2,500 persons have been cured of various diseases feel is heir to by it during the last two months We can therefore pronounce it a success. Attention is called to the advertisement in this day's issue of Post. The Globe says: "It would seem like gilding gold for us to make any further statement.



In answer to a frequent question "Will one Pad cure?" we reply, "Yes; at least nine times out of ten." There are some old chronic cases where poisonous internal medicines have 'set' the disease in the system—as alum 'sets' dye colors in cloth—or the nervous system has become entirely prostrated, that will exhaust the first Pad and make a second one necessary to complete the cure. These cases are rare, but it is only fair to say that we meet them once in a while.

Sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of $2 for the regular Pad and $3 for special Pads.

Holman's Liver Pad works by Absorption; is Nature's True Law. It is Two-fold in its Action Gives and Takes. No Poisons are used in making it. It is a War against Nostrums.
